Summary

Hi, I'm Mercy Onyoibo Ogbenjuwa, a computer enthusiast who loves solving problems with code. I learned a lot about computers at the University of Bingham. I've worked in finance, health, education, and tech industry.

I enjoy figuring out tricky code puzzles and working well with different teams. I'm always learning about the newest tech stuff.

If you have cool tech projects or ideas, let's chat! Connect with me on LinkedIn, and we can use technology to make awesome things happen together. Excited to start this tech journey with you!
